

10733 Bartlett Drive E-mail: kk3boyz@hotmail.com
Grass Valley, CA 95945 Phone: (530) 272-7524

DAVID E.K. STEIN

Objective

A full time computer-based position developing training programs.

Professional Experience

Senior Multimedia Developer Kelly Services, Inc. 1995-2004

Planned, designed, and implemented a variety of hard- and soft-skill testing and training programs for internal and external customers. Led teams of Authorware developers and commercial artists, and coordinated with the quality assurance department to fully test products. Additional duties included conducting stand-up training classes for new and junior developers, troubleshooting software code, creating developers' software tools, and assigning projects.

On-Line Training Team Leader International Billing Services 1990-1995

Planned, designed and implemented in-house training programs using Authorware multimedia language. Led team of developers, and coordinated with programming, technical support, and management. Additional duties included one-on-one training for new developers and assigning projects.

Technical Writing Team Leader International Billing Services 1988-1990

Planned, designed and created technical manuals for in-house software programs and billing factory processes. Also responsible for interviewing, training and assigning new technical writers.

Air Force Officer United States Air Force 1986-1994

Responsibilities included representing the Base Commander during off-duty hours, information transportation (courier), and enlisted mess hall inspections. Active duty and Immediate Ready Reserve (IRR).

Education

Bachelors degree, Computer Science. 1985 California State Polytechnic University, Pomona.

Commissioned 2nd Lt., 1986, Officer Training School, USAF, Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, TX.

Several Macromedia Authorware classes, some Flash and Dreamweaver.

Education

References available on request.